

THE ROMANCE OF A PRIEST

Converted to Catholicism at an Early Age, He Afterwards Enters the Priesthood.

Falling in Love With a Beautiful Girl, He Deserts the Church and Marries.

Death of the Woman for the Sake of Whom He Gave Up His Priestly Duties.

New York, Nov. 13.—News has just been received here of the death in Spain of Mrs. Sarah Ginevera Lake, widow of Rev. Henry S. Lake, the brilliant young Catholic priest who, nearly seventeen years ago, forsook the church to marry the woman whom he loved. The story of the romantic career of this couple was told by an intimate friend, Father Lake, the son of Henry Lake, senior partner of the house of Lake & McCreery, leading dry-goods men in New York fifteen years ago. He had been brought up in the Protestant faith and at the age of fifteen caused much consternation in his family by the announcement that he had been converted to the Catholic faith. He was sent to St. John's college at Fordham, where he passed through the various grades until ready to enter the priesthood. To better prepare himself, he determined to go to Rome, and there entered the American college, having as a brother student Rev. Dr. McGlynn. While in Rome, he collected a rare Catholic library, said to be equalled in this country only by that possessed by a Jesuit father in this city. For the first six years of priesthood he belonged to the Paulist order.

In the course of the study of elocution he met Miss Sarah Ginevera Clafia, a girl of 18, who was studying under the same teacher. She was a young poetess and a public reader, who made her debut as an actress under Mrs. Sheridan at the Union Square Theater. Lake and she fell in love, but for a long time kept the feeling concealed from each other. The struggle between duty to the church and love for this girl was a very bitter one, but love naturally won, and Lake deserted the church. They were married secretly and lived in New York for a short time under the name of Edmonds.

Lake's disappearance was variously commented on by the papers, but none discovered that the young priest was married. A few friends who were privy to the secret did not let it be known till "Mr. and Mrs. Edmonds" had left the city. Then it was the scandal of a day. Whither the couple wandered was not known for several years by the friends left behind, but in 1874 a letter was received by a lady confidant in this city from San Francisco, telling of the happy life they were living. The next day was a telegram received on Christmas day, 1875, from Santa Cruz, announcing the death of Father Lake by consumption. Mrs. Lake returned to San Francisco and made a home for herself in a quiet little house on Fifth street. When her grief had somewhat subsided, she wrote a letter to a friend which was evidently intended as a defense of her and Father Lake's action. She says in it:

"I have been blamed for inducing my husband to break his vows and leave the church. This charge is false. When he told me of his love we discussed the peculiarity of his position. I advised him to stay in the church. He studied up the question of celibacy and the law of the church, and he concluded that the system had no divine origin or authorization. Of course, loving him I was passive to his wishes. We secretly sailed for California, reaching San Francisco on the 6th of November, 1874. In the hope of finding a more congenial climate for the consumptive, we went to Santa Cruz and settled down for life. He started a newspaper, but he had no heart for the struggle, even in this far off favored and lovely land. But, nevertheless, we lived and loved until death claimed him. Here I am in a great city alone, thousands of miles from any of my friends. I have written to Mr. Lake's friends in New York, but I do not know how they look upon me now that he is dead. Most of my own friends in New York have ignored me entirely, and yet what great crime or shameless act have I done? I simply obeyed the purest and noblest instincts that God has planted in the human breast. Nothing more had been heard of Mrs. Lake until her death was made known by letter a few days ago."

The Verdict Unanimous.
W. D. Sult, druggist, Hippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing. Another, Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: 'The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience, is Electric Bitters.' Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters cure all diseases of the liver, kidneys or blood. Only half a dollar a bottle at R. S. Hale & Co.'s drug store."

A Good Cough Syrup.
There is nothing parents should be so careful about as selecting a cough syrup. Reggs' Cherry Cough Syrup costs no more than the cheap and inferior nostrums thrown on the market. The best is not too good, be sure and get REGGS' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP. We keep it on hand at all times. R. S. Hale & Co., Druggists.

Unsurpassed in the World.
The vestibuled trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, running daily between St. Paul and Minneapolis and Milwaukee and Chicago, are the perfection of modern railway equipment, and are unsurpassed in the world. They consist of elegant day coaches, Pullman's latest and best sleeping cars and the finest dining cars in the country. These trains are lighted by electricity and heated by steam, and afford to the traveler every comfort and convenience to be had in the very best hotels. All classes of tickets are honored on these trains and the rates are no higher than by other lines. It is for this reason that discriminating travelers patronize this company and insist that their tickets read over its line, as they naturally want the best service for their money.

What on Earth
Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world-wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving so unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as Reggs' Blood Purifier and Blood Maker, and every bottle that does not do its work will cost you nothing. For sale by all druggists. R. S. Hale & Co., wholesale and retail agents.
